Marsden M-300: Our most accurate baby scale is also our most portable

With key benefits like high accuracy, portability and an extra-long battery life, the M-300 has become Marsden's most popular baby scale.

This beautifully-sculpted, one-piece baby scale is perfect for midwives and health visitors - and its accuracy means it can be used in hospitals for measuring weight for critical treatment.

Ultimate portability

The M-300 is the most portable baby scale of its kind in the Marsden range.

We wanted to provide a lightweight solution for midwives and health visitors. Therefore, the M-300 weighs just 3.1kg and is available with a carry case or rucksack.

Additionally, thanks to picostrain technology, just two AA batteries will provide over 600 hours' use. A mains adaptor is also available, as well as an auto power-off function.

Extreme accuracy

The M-300 is accurate to just 2g. This means even the smallest changes in a baby's weight are detected, and it's suitable for measuring weighing for critical treatment.

The Tare feature makes it quick and easy to remove the weight of additional items such as blankets or swaddling, so you can get a true reading of the baby's weight.

The Hold function allows you to stabilise the weight reading on the large, clear display – no matter how much the baby moves!

Keep it hygienic

The M-300 boasts a wipe-clean surface - essential for keeping the scale hygienic.

Additionally, the moulded tray is perfectly designed to comfortably accommodate all babies.
